"Underwood, Elliott-Fisher, Sundstrand—Speed the World's Business"

THE Underwood Noiseless Typewriter represents the most notable step in the typewriter industry since the advent of the visible writing Underwood thirty years ago. The quiet business office has become a necessity. Business efficiency demands quiet; utilization of expensive floor space demands quiet; the office workers demand quiet. Deadening or subduing office noises will not satisfy these demands. The obvious and practical way to prevent typewriter noise is to cease making it, and it is because of this that we now offer a noiseless typewriter, completely efficient in all respects—"It's more than a Noiseless—it's an UNDERWOOD!"

EXECUTIVES need the Underwood Noiseless because quiet is conducive to concentration of thought — man's greatest asset. Thus the Underwood Noiseless promotes and encourages greater efficiency. Whatever helps an executive develop his potential of thought, while husbanding his nerve force, is worth its weight in gold.

The Office Manager and the Department Heads want the Underwood Noiseless because quiet creates amiability by stimulating mentality.

Stenographers prefer the Underwood Noiseless because it is the typewriter plus. It is a visible writer; it is sturdy, frictionless, and—the least fatiguing to operate. It has all of the good operating efficiencies of other standard typewriters, plus the inestimable value of noiselessness.

THE "pitch" of an office is keyed by the constant click, click, click of the typewriters. Eliminate this noise from your office, and the other noises will automatically become less noticeable. Voices will be tuned to the softer tones—no more harsh, resonant dictation; no more "broadcasting" telephone conversations!

If you expect your employees to make rapid calculations; to enter accurate records; to render close estimates; to propagate broad campaigns; to arrive at clear decisions; to dispense sound advice; to write forceful letters, do not handicap them with unnecessary office noises. Improve their power of concentration by giving them quiet and dignified surroundings.

THE UNDERWOOD NOISELESS QUIETLY SPEEDS THE WORLD'S BUSINESS
