EVERYONE KNOWS

That advertising is essential to business success.

That magazine and newspaper advertising is expensive—that to do it successfully calls for large capital.

That printed “dodgers” cost less than newspaper and magazine advertising, but have less effect.

That every man reads a Personal Letter.

That he reads a personal letter about a business proposition just as he reads any other personal letter.

That there is only one kind, and can be only one kind of advertising “personal letter”

—THE TYPEWRITTEN LETTER.

Everyone Who Has Investigated the Matter Knows

That the personal typewritten letter constitutes the least expensive and the most effective form of advertising that has ever been devised.

That the Remington Typewriter Company was the first to use the personal typewritten letter as a method of advertising—the first to prove its merit.

That thousands in every line of trade have since tried the same method on our suggestion, and always with the same success.

That our salesmen always stand ready to explain our success to others—to give them the benefit of our experience—to start them on the road to success, or greater success, by the same means.

That the Remington is more than a Typewriter—it is a BUSINESS BUILDER, the greatest of modern times.

Drop us a line, and our salesman will explain to you how the building is done.
